

Klang Space Hebrew (Biblical) – Resonance Analysis of a Language of Creation

1. Vowels – Resonance Spaces (Reception)

Sound	Pronunciation [IPA]	Effect (Field)
A (א)	[a]	Origin, earth sound, creative fire
E (עֵ)	[e] / [ei]	Movement, connection, soul opening
I (י)	[i]	Clarity, penetration, spiritual flame
O (ו)	[o]	Gathering, circle, inner light
U (וּ)	[u]	Depth, protection, reconnection

→ Hebrew vowels are breath-bearers –
they do not always appear in writing, but act energetically clear.

→ Each vowel movement is a spiritual gate –
it does not call information, but effect.

2. Consonants – Movement Carriers (Alefbet)

Sound	Pronunciation [IPA]	Effect (Field)
א Alef	[ʔ]	Emptiness, origin, unspoken beginning
ב Bet	[v] / [b]	House, structure, receptive form
ג Gimel	[g]	Movement, transition, balance of forces
ד Dalet	[d]	Door, boundary, threshold
ה He	[h]	Breath, revelation, ruach field
ו Vav	[w] / [v]	Connection, hook, timeline
ז Zajin	[z]	Cut, memory, sharpness
ח Chet	[χ]	Breath of life, reflux, deep space
ט Tet	[tʰ]	Womb power, inner structure
י Jod	[j]	Beginning, point, divine impulse
כ Kaf	[χ] / [k]	Shaping, action, hand movement
ל Lamed	[l]	Learning, guidance, flow
מ Mem	[m]	Water, depth, nourishing field
נ Nun	[n]	Succession, life, movement
ס Samech	[s]	Enclosure, circle, protection
ע Ayin	[ʕ]	Seeing without eyes, inner sight, field contact
פ Pe	[f] / [p]	Mouth, expression, shaping
צ Tsade	[ts]	Justice, path, tension
ק Qof	[q]	Rear center, mystery, inner opening
ר Resh	[ʁ]	Head, movement, return
ש Shin	[ʃ]	Fire, destruction and creation
ת Tav	[t]	Goal, crossing point, end and new beginning

→ The consonants of the Alefbet are archaic fields –
they carry not alphabetical meaning, but forces of effect.

3. Axes of Tension

Axis of Origin:

Alef · Mem · Qof · Ayin → Depth, emptiness, resonance of "before the word"

Axis of Revelation:

He · Vav · Jod · Lamed → Light, connection, path and guidance

Axis of Boundary:

Dalet · Samech · Tet · Tav → Form, boundary, protection, goal

Axis of Fire:

Shin · Zajin · Resh · Tsade → Transformation, tension, purification

→ Hebrew does not sound loudly – it sounds through space.

4. Body Resonance

Area	Sounds
Head	Jod, Zajin, Tsade, Shin
Throat	Alef, He, Ayin, Chet
Heart/Chest	Mem, Lamed, Nun, Bet
Pelvis	Qof, Tav, Tet, Dalet

→ Hebrew does not vibrate on the surface,
it carries like a stream beneath the earth.

5. Language Dynamics and Energy Flow

- Meanings arise from roots (Shoreshim) – mostly from 3 consonants.
- Words act like waves in space, not like linear messages.
- Every sound is part of a code, not a part of grammar.

→ Language is not communication – it is a carrier of divine resonance.

6. Energetic Profile of Hebrew

Hebrew is:

- elemental – like the forces of origin
- shaping – not explanatory, but creative
- pre-calling – like a name that calls you before you know who you are

→ It does not speak about – it speaks from what is.

7. Application to Sound Work

- Ideal for sound magic, ritual work, soul movement.
- The Alefbet is not an alphabet – it is a body of sound.

Example structure (3-4-3 moras):

- ale / mem / šēt
- ru / ‘ā / vō / nīm
- qōf / nā / hū

→ Hebrew does not whisper –
it burns softly through your throat.

This sound space is a beginning before the beginning – not to speak, but to be.
When you speak it –
you are not the speaker,
but the witness of the light in sound.
